To whom it may concern,

It is with great pleasure and much enthusiasm that I write a letter in support of Joshua Breto's application for an internship with NIKE. Josh is an undergraduate student who has been in a number of courses mine as an undergraduate student in OSU's City and Regional Planning program. The first time I met Josh was in Fall 2011. Josh was a student in a course I was teaching at the time. Josh received a B+ in this class. At the time, he was suffering from an injury and unable to play soccer for the OSU team. He was struggling a little with this but worked hard to not only get back to playing soccer but also to achieve good grades in his studies. Josh was also a student in a course I taught in Winter 2012. Again, Josh received a B+ in this class. In this course, he worked extremely well on a group project, always making sure to complete his share of the workload in an efficient and effective manner. Josh was also a student of mine in Spring 2012. This course was a studio on student housing. In this class, Josh was mostly involved in gathering data needed for the production of the final report and editing and writing the text of this document. Josh received an A grade in this class, working extremely well on this group effort.

Based on my experience of Josh, he is a diligent and conscientious student with the ability to work well with others. Josh learns quickly and is an independent thinker, trying to figure things out for himself first before seeking help on a problem. He is always on time with his assignments, tries hard and has done very well in his coursework for my classes. Josh, as a student athlete, has a tough schedule but he always attends class and works as hard if not harder than his fellow students. I believe Josh will make an excellent intern, especially for a company such as NIKE. He adores sports, he is hard-working, he is a team player, and he has the drive to succeed.

Please feel free to get in touch directly if you need to ask any specific questions about Josh. My telephone number is (614) 292-7470.

Sincerely,

Bernadette Hanlon, PhD.
